

The MARKETS NOW

Informal and interactive discussions of global markets inviting questions, asking questions and exchanging views with investors who share the same fascination and enthusiasm for financial markets.

- Which major stock markets should outperform in 2015's more turbulent environment?
- Will deflation force precious metals & crude oil even lower this year or are they recovery candidates?
- Where might global GDP growth improve the most in 2015?
- The Third Industrial Revolution - what are the main drivers?
- Its current stage of development and what is likely to follow.
- What are the major investing opportunities?
- What does currency turmoil caused by the breaking of the CHF/ EUR peg mean for global currencies?
- Is there such a thing as an All Weather Investment Fund?
- A Review of the "Trusts in Focus" menu

DAVID FULLER

David Fuller is a global strategist and Chairman of Fuller, Treacy Money, previously known as Fuller Money. He is a career analyst, behaviourist and private investor, writing, conducting seminars and lecturing on markets for over 47 years.

DAVID BROWN

Dr David Brown is an investor and medical researcher responsible for several major inventions including Viagra (co-inventor on the patent and team-leader for 8 years), Revatio (pulmonary hypertension) and Relpax (migraine), with over $30 billion sales. His interest in healthcare breakthroughs led to founding and chairing hi-tech biotechnology companies and then to consulting globally on the Third Industrial Revolution, which will be the topic of his talk.

IAIN LITTLE

Iain Little has been a private client manager for 35 years. He founded P&C in Zurich in 1999, now part of European Wealth Group. He ran Pictet's UK private client business, and has managed money for endowments, Japanese life companies and various funds. He writes a global investment diary and is a huge fan of closed-ended investment funds.

"Thank you for yet another highly rewarding Markets Now seminar. These really are special occasions, in my view, given the array of highly informative data presented. Well done to you all."
