

The MARKETS NOW

Informal and interactive discussions of global markets inviting questions, asking questions and exchanging views with investors who share the same fascination and enthusiasm for financial markets.

- Are US Treasury Bond yields bottoming out as the Fed considers a September rate hike?
- How risky are seasonal factors, QE and rising valuations for stock markets?
- What are the respective risks for bonds versus most stock markets over the medium to longer term?
- Reducing Risk, Optimising Reward: To make money in the markets, it is all about shifting the probabilities in your favour.
- Nothing is perfect, but are there proven ways to reduce risk during bull markets?
- Are there leading indicators of oncoming bear markets, or useful indicators of bear market bottoms?
- If global bond yields have really bottomed, how to invest the cash and fixed income portion of portfolios?
- How are the trusts in focus doing?

DAVID FULLER

David Fuller is a global strategist and Chairman of Fuller, Treacy Money, previously known as Fuller Money. He is a career analyst, behaviourist and private investor, writing, conducting seminars and lecturing on markets for over 47 years.

DAVID BROWN

Dr David Brown is an investor and medical researcher responsible for several major inventions. He consults globally on the Third Industrial Revolution, which was the topic of his talk at Markets Now in February. He maintains several investment portfolios. All are guided by well-researched methods to minimise risk and maximise return: these will be the subject of his June 2015 Markets Now presentation.

IAIN LITTLE

Iain Little has been a private client manager for 35 years. He founded P&C in Zurich in 1999, now part of European Wealth Group. He ran Pictet's UK private client business, and has managed money for endowments, Japanese life companies and various funds. He writes a global investment diary and is a huge fan of closed-ended investment funds.

“David, many thanks to you and your fellow presenters at Monday's Markets Now event. It was the most illuminating view of macro growth opportunities I have seen in many years.”
